

When you think of an insolvency practitioner, saving a business might not be the first thing that comes to mind.

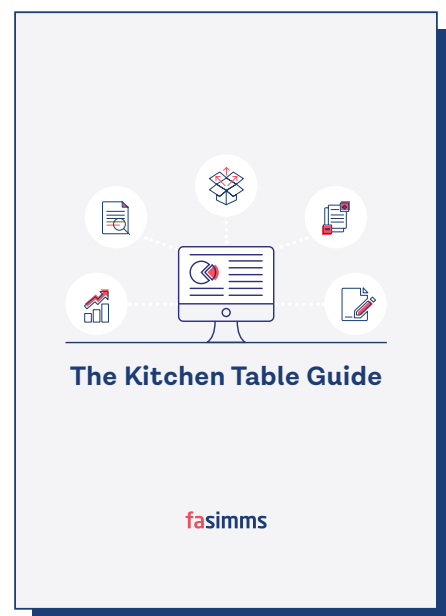

But in reality, in 2019 the insolvency industry saved 7,200 businesses and 297,000 jobs*. We work side-by-side with accountants, bookkeepers and tax professionals to support businesses through their most challenging times - and help them come back stronger.

We start by working through a business rescue process we've developed over our 40 years in the insolvency industry. It's called The Kitchen Table Guide, because it can be completed while sitting down in an informal setting over a cup of tea.

The guide's aim is to get clients to see their business with fresh eyes. What would their business look like if they were starting again? And can they make their current business look more like that aspirational one? Once we have that picture in place, we work with them - and you - to achieve it.

*source: r3.org.uk

If you have clients you think could benefit from The Kitchen Table Guide, you can download it by clicking on the image below.

If you have a client in need of business rescue advice, please get in touch with our experienced team.